

OpenText Enfuse 2019 to Showcase the Future of Secure Information Management

August 15, 2019

Mark J. Barrenechea and James Clapper to Headline the Annual Cybersecurity, Digital Investigations, Artificial Intelligence (AI) and eDiscovery Conference

WATERLOO, Ontario, Aug. 15, 2019 /PRNewswire/ -- OpenText™ (NASDAQ: OTEX), (TSX: OTEX), a global leader in Enterprise Information Management \(EIM\), today announced a highly compelling line up for OpenText Enfuse 2019, including keynote presentations from OpenText CEO & CTO Mark J. Barrenechea and James Clapper, Former U.S. Director of National Intelligence (DNI).

"OpenText Enfuse is unparalleled. No other event brings together the latest technology, best practices and leading minds from cybersecurity, law enforcement and corporate investigations, legal discovery and emerging technology," said Mark J. Barrenechea, OpenText CEO & CTO. "As the nation's top intelligence official for seven years, James Clapper witnessed first-hand the impact of technology, cybercrime and the digital revolution. His perspective will help attendees think differently about how they secure and manage their information."

OpenText Enfuse 2019 will bring together leaders in cybersecurity, digital investigations, AI and eDiscovery November 11 – 14 at The Venetian Resort in Las Vegas. OpenText Enfuse is the only conference featuring this blend of technologies, disciplines and knowledge.

Attendees will have access to the latest OpenText updates in information security, eDiscovery, artificial intelligence and forensic investigations. Every year, Enfuse offers hands-on training and labs to ensure participants can continue to update their skills, as well as opportunities to hear and engage with industry experts on the latest trends, best-practices and techniques of the day.

OpenText Enfuse will feature:

- More than 100 breakout sessions and hands-on technical labs covering a range of issues including mobility, IoT, information governance, forensics, eDiscovery, legal document management and threat hunting.
- Sessions on best-practices and scenarios addressing the concerns of professionals in the public sector, financial services, manufacturing, healthcare, legal industry and more.
- Valuable training and certification opportunities, including EnCE, EnCEP and CFSR certifications, at no additional cost.
